Community Living Burlington's Strategic Plan

What is SOCIAL CAPITAL?

The networks of relationships among people who live and work in a community, enabling that community to function effectively.

- Building trusting relationships outside of CLB
- ➤ Expanding social circles by meeting new people
- Joining inclusive social groups and volunteering
- Building & strengthening family relationships and current friendships

More healthy friendships and relationships help add quality of life and create new opportunities and experiences

Sternal Resource Development Staff are inspired by and drive the building of social support through effective training and true personcentred goals

- •Seamless communication between all employees
- Effective & reliable technology
- Cooperating with other non profits to develop mutually beneficial services

Increase in natural and individualized supports through:

- Collaborative Day & Residential services
- Accessible & diverse communitybased programs
- Customized living

Our Legacy Impact; by 2027

and beyond the people we support are thriving independently in the community

> CLB will develop solid partnerships, build a diverse and reliable volunteer base and create new funding strategies to drive social capital

Reduce stiama/ stereotyping through education and awareness leading to an increase in belonging for the people we support in Halton
